

Re-imagining Helston's High Streets

Creating a green corridor for improved pedestrian access to Horse and Jockey Lane, and a threshold with a strong sense of place for those entering Trengrouse car park.

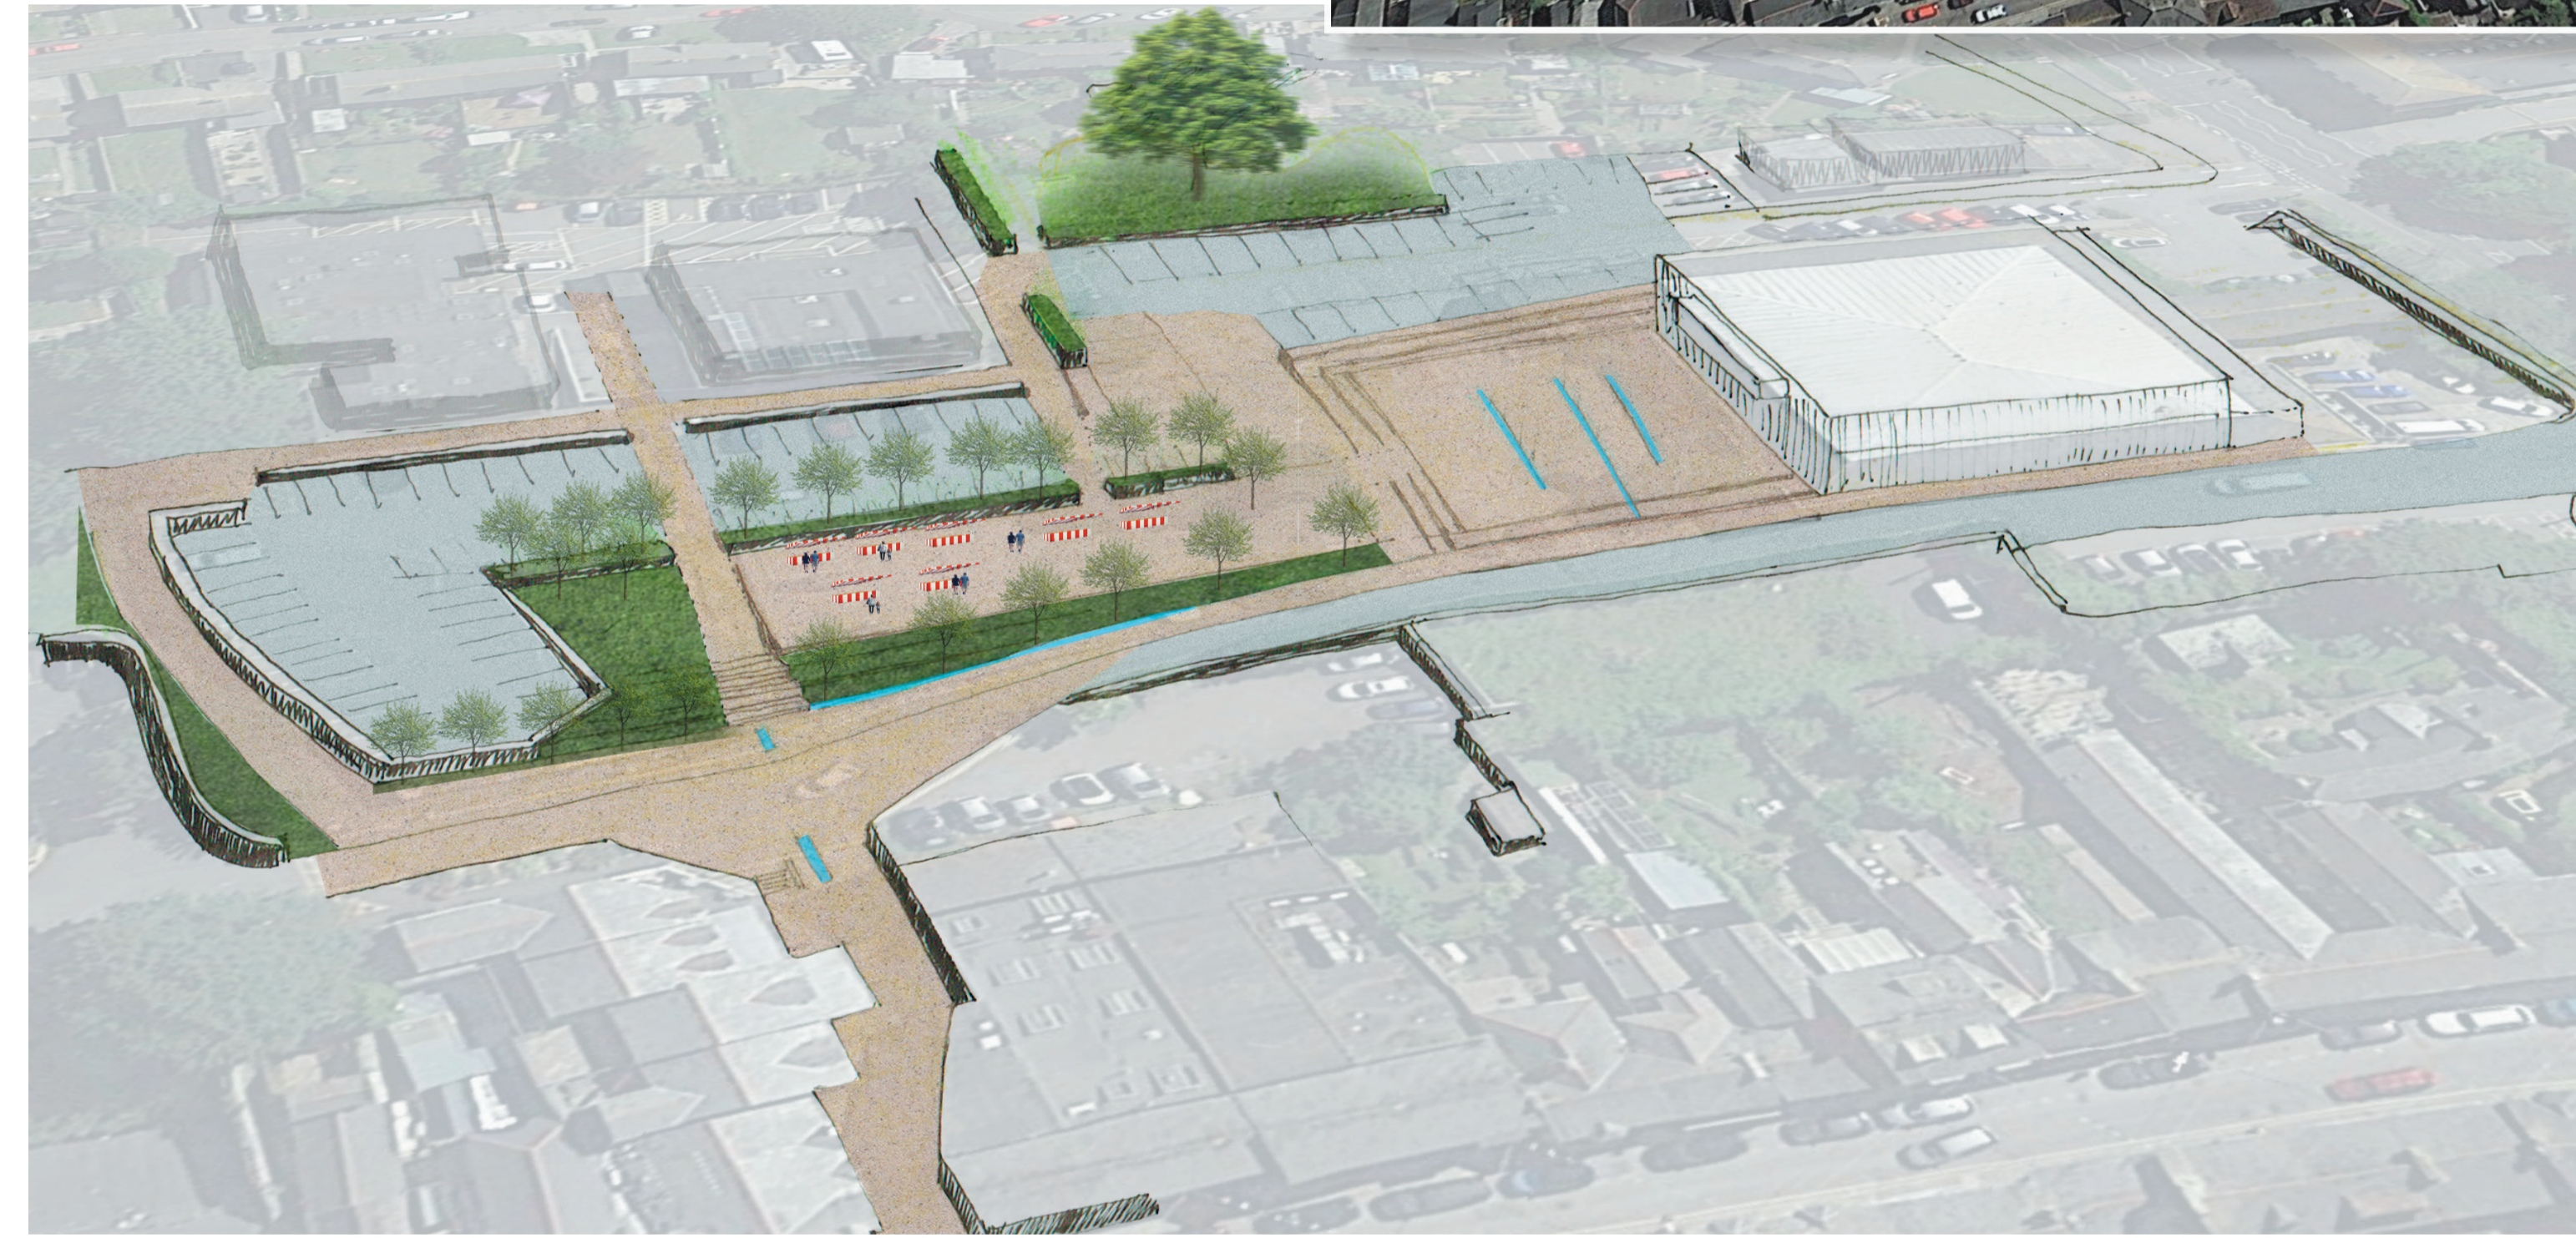

A new civic space that provides a high-quality setting for the re-purposed old Budgens building, and the Library and Health Centre.

A terraced landscape that provides space for outdoor events and possible performance film screenings, etc.

TRENGROUSE CAR PARK

Repurposing parking lots into new green public spaces

Aerial view of Trengrouse Car park- existing.

Sketch view of Trengrouse Car Park public realm and event space as proposed.

Plan of Trengrouse Way car park - proposals.

Sketch view of the top of Horse and Jockey Lane.

Opportunities to green the car park spaces with planting and trees and screen the rear of properties and delivery bays.

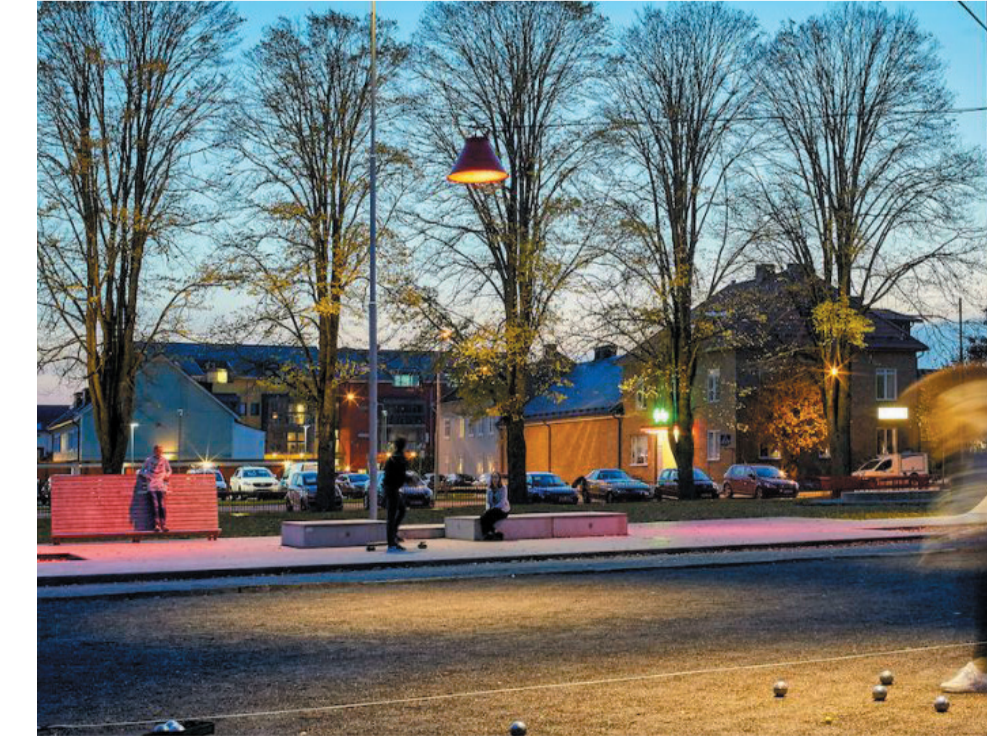

View of the top of Horse and Jockey Lane.

View from the top floor of the Old Budgens Building.

Activation of the space through community events i.e. informal and pop-up events and markets, boules, etc.

The use of water through the open-space reinstates and reflects Helston's historic kennels and activated the space through water play in summer months. In winter months the space can be used as a flexible events space. (e.g. ice skating).

